

CONTENT

Acknowledgements

INTRODUCTION	5
1 THE DREAM: THINKING ABOUT CIVIL SOCIETY IN THE CZECH LANDS BEFORE 1989	8
1.1 Three Concepts	10
1.1.1 Tesař (1977): Civil Society as an Antidote to Non-democratic Regimes	10
1.1.2 Benda (1978): Parallel Polis	12
1.1.3 Havel (1978): Living in Truth and Non-Political Politics	13
1.2 Conclusion: Dream or Program?	16
2 CIVIL SOCIETY IN THE CZECH REPUBLIC: A STORY OF SLOW EMANCIPATION	20
2.1 Introduction and Historical Background	20
2.1.1 Development before 1989 and Some Consequences	20
2.1.2 Crucial Moments and Political Turn-Overs after 1989	23
2.2 Characteristics of Civil Society: Basic Data	27
2.3 Institutional Background of Civil Society	36
2.3.1 The Legal Environment of CSOs	36
2.3.2 The Legal Environment of Advocacy	38
2.3.3 Financial Environment	42
2.4 Perspectives	48
3 EMBEDDEDNESS OF CIVIC ADVOCACY CSOs IN THE CZECH REPUBLIC: AN EMPIRICAL ASSESSMENT	50
3.1 Theoretical and Conceptual Background: Four Ideal Types of Civil Society Development	51
3.2 Czech Civic Advocacy	56
3.3 Data and Methods	59
3.4 Membership in Advocacy and Non-advocacy Groups Compared	63
3.5 Individual Participation in Civic Advocacy Activities	66

3.6	Social Embeddedness of Advocacy CSOs	71
3.7	Patterns of Alienation between Citizens and CSOs: Mutual Perceptions	77
3.8	Summary	84
	CONCLUSIONS	87
	Figures	92
	Tables	93
	References	94