

OBSAH

Regional Security Interdependence: Introduction Miroslav Mareš, Tomáš Šmíd	7
--	---

Panel 1: Regional Security Interdependence in Middle East and Central Asia

Ups and Downs of Turkish Relationship with Erbil and Baghdad in the Post-2003 Era

Tomáš Kaválek	11
Introduction	12
Analytical Framework	13
Turkish New Foreign Policy	14
Security Dimension	15
Political Dimension	16
Economic Dimension	16
Cultural Dimension	17
Security Dimension	17
Favoring Baghdad: 2003–2009	18
“Erbil Up, then Baghdad Down”: 2009–2015	19
Maintaining Iraqi Unity versus Iranian Influence	22
Political Dimension	23
“The Baghdad Years”: 2003–2009	24
A Period of the pro-KRG Activism: 2009–2015	26
Economic Dimension	28
Kurdish Oil as a Source of Friction	29
Concluding Remarks: Turkish Ambition Hits Regional Realities	31
List of Abbreviations	34

Iran’s Policy towards Iraq and towards Afghanistan in the pre-Islamic State Period

Iveta Hloučová	41
Introduction	41
Overview of Iran’s foreign policy	43
Iran-Iraq relations	46
Iran-Afghanistan relations	47
Comparison of Iran’s policy towards Iraq and towards Afghanistan	49
Causes and goals	49

Contents and dynamics	51
Actors	53
Conclusions	54

Kazakh Islamist Terrorism: The Changing Geopolitics of Terrorist Threat

Martin Laryš and Miroslav Mareš	58
Introduction	58
Framework for geopolitical analysis of Kazakh terrorism.....	59
Historical excursus into the evolution of Islam in Kazakhstan	60
Islamic extremism in Central Asia and the most important organisations in the region	62
The Islamic Movement of Uzbekistan (IMU).....	64
Hizb ut-Tahrir (Party of Liberation).....	66
Islamic radicalism in Kazakhstan.....	67
Conclusion	79

Panel 2: Regional Security Interdependence in Central and Eastern Europe

Russia's economic interests in Slovakia in the context of the continuing crisis in Ukraine

Tomáš Bělonožník and Miroslav Mareš	87
Introduction	88
An analytical framework for contemporary Russian-Slovak economic relations.....	88
The consequences of the crisis in Ukraine on Slovakia's and the EU's relations with Russia	90
Common EU foreign policy and its impact on member states.....	91
The planned sale of Slovenské elektrárne.....	94
Planned construction at the Jaslovské Bohunice NPP	99
Broad-gauge railway project	102
Conclusion	106

Is there a Threat of Nuclear Proliferation in Central and Eastern Europe?

Miroslav Mareš and Lukáš Visingr	110
Introduction	111
The period until the end of the Cold War	112
The decade after the Cold War.....	117
Twenty-first century.....	120
Conclusion	126